

B.A (H) English

Program outcomes

The noble aim of incorporating such an expansive and exhaustive syllabus in teaching English Honours is to give a flavour of varied literature including Indian classical literature to Modern Indian writing to European classical literature to World literature to European literature etc. This rich syllabus would surely ensure that by the time the students will have completed their graduation, they will have studied some of the seminal texts in all these areas mentioned above. Honours teaching also aim at acquainting students with several issues including gender studies, queer studies, cultural studies, caste, colonization. This would surely give a thorough exposure to students especially those who want to pursue their higher education.

Apart from teaching to the English Honours students, English department also does have such an engaging syllabus for students in B.A Programme, B.Com and B.Sc. in the form of Generic English and SEC and VAC and AEC. We aim at improving the language skills of the students.
